THE CHECK, PLEASE—Mrs. Elmer Reed seems very happy as she receives the first-place check from her flying husband after the Atlanta Golf Association had presented it to him for winning the 1947 Atlanta Open Friday afternoon at East Lake. Elmer, who played as a professional, shot two airding rounds of 69 to top the 61-man field by five strokes. When not golfing, Elmer is a commercial airline pilot, flying the night run between here and Detroit.

Elmer Reed Captures Atlanta Open With 138

By BERT FRATHER

Elmer Reed, young Eastern Air Lines pilot who plays a mighty fine game of golf when he is on the ground, hung up another victory for the pros in the Atlanta Open when he put together two sub-par rounds of 69 Friday over the East Lake No. 1 course for a total of 138 and first prize in the 1947 revival of this popular Atlanta Golf Association-sponsored event.
